

Since 1957, the Chamber of Commerce has worked closely with the Hawkins County Industrial Development Board to help bring business and industry to our area. And with the proliferation of national and regional retail and food chains, the development of the Small Business Incubator in eastern Hawkins County and the continued growth of northeast Tennessee's second-largest industrial district at Phipp's Bend, it's obvious that this partnership has been key to keeping Hawkins County at the forefront of economic development.

We're happy to help businesses and industries interested in relocating to the Hawkins County area in just about any way -- so give the professionals at the Chamber of Commerce a call, (423) 272-2186.

In the meantime, visit the Development Board's website and learn more about why so many of the nation's top companies; and plenty of small businesses, too have already found their gateway to opportunity, Hawkins County, Tennessee.

Learn more about doing business in Hawkins County